

Spring 2007

It's hard to believe that Kooper will be 5 years old on Wednesday and Leah is 5 1/2 years old and she's weighing in at a whopping 91 lbs. They're doing great especially now that its warm outside and they can go outside and play. We love them and wouldn't know what we would do without them.

Photos: 1) Leah sticking her tongue out about getting her picture taken 2) Kooper longing for summer to get here

Spring 2007

November 18, 2005

Photo: Kooper and Leah's 2005 Christmas portrait

October 2005

Photos: 1) Now that's a dog bed! 2) Please mom, no more photos 3) Kooper and his "bark-o-louger"

March 2005

Photos: 1) Dad's birthday "card" 2) Owners of the couch!

December 2004

Photos: 1) Kooper with his new toy 2) Even doggies can decorate! 3) Kooper and Leah's 2004 Christmas photo

November 2004

Photos: 1) Kooper says "Ball? I don't see any ball..." 2) Leah says "It is tough being a princess..."

August 2004

Photo: Kooper and Leah share the top of the dog house

June 5, 2004

Kooper's family writes, "Here's the kids at Christmas time (only six months late, but just now got a new scanner) They're doing just great!"

Photos: 1) Leah & Kooper's 2003 Christmas photo 2) Kooper loves the swimming pool, but really prefers to play with the garden hose 3) Leah cooling off in her swimming pond

May 15, 2004

The kids are doing fine. They're just too cute for words. They just go together like peanut butter and jelly.

March 19 2004

Leiah will pick a fight with Kooper when he's on the couch so then he gets off the couch and she hops on and just

November 18, 2005

flops down. They like to chase each other around the dog house and every once in awhile after they have been playing and they come inside, one of them is usually missing their dog collar (mostly Kooper). Don't know how she does it but she gets it off of him every time. They both love to sit on top of the dog house and bark at everyone. We love them very much and try not to spoil them too much (Ha!) Wouldn't trade them in for the world.

March 16, 2004

Kids are doing fine. Had to visit the vet last Friday. Kooper is 84 lbs and Leiah is 85 lbs. The kids send puppy kisses to all. My baby boy (Kooper) finally became a "man puppy" yesterday. He finally hiked his leg. I was so proud, and then, not to be outdone, Leiah came up behind his and hiked her leg. It's too funny. They're getting a little stir crazy. They want to go out and play ball. Kooper would stay outside all the time if you'd let him.

March 9, 2004

Kooper and Leiah are doing great. Both are now weighing in 77.6lbs (Kooper) and 76lbs (Leiah). It took them about a month to become friends but now they are velcroed...They are such wonderful and comical dogs to watch. Leiah will pick a fight with Kooper when he's on the couch so then he gets off the couch and she hops on and just flops down. They like to chase each other around the dog house and every once in awhile after they have been playing and they come inside, one of them is usually missing their dog collar (mostly Kooper). Don't know how she does it but she gets it off of him every time. They both love to sit on top of the dog house and bark at everyone. We love them very much and try not to spoil them too much (Ha!) Wouldn't trade them in for the world.

January 2003

Luke's parents write: He (Kooper) is now around 55lbs and loves the snow. Couldn't get enough of snow. When it first started falling he would jump up and try to catch it. Ice cubes are another favorite of his too. Don't know why, but when you go to get ice, he's like a cat that has heard the can opener. He has a trick where he will drop his toy into the bathroom waste can and then pick up something else out of the trash as if he's trying to say, "Hey, this is a fair trade".

Photo: Kooper's 1st birthday!

December 2002

Luke (Kooper) is happy with his new family and spoiled too! See his picture with Santa.

Photo: Kooper's Christmas photo

October 2005

March 2005

December 2004

November 2004

August 2004

June 5, 2004

January 2003

December 2002

