She is filling out nicely. She appears to be reverting back to being a puppy. Perhaps that was a time of her life that she never got to enjoy. She wants to play and it is quite a sight to see her and the cats chase each other around the house. We go to obedience school Friday evenings. Leila and I walk twice a day for a total of 3 miles daily. She loves to go for drives. We finally have convinced her that her place is in the back seat and that I'll drive the car!
