

December 29, 2005

Sadie wasn't much into playing when she first got here. Greta has her playing all the time now.

Photos: Greta and her newly adopted sister, Sadie

September 24, 2005

Greta is getting along wonderfully with her new family. She was so afraid of everyone and everything when she first came home. It took some time, she now has so much more confidence in herself. She started obedience training 2 weeks ago and is doing super. She has just started playing with toys a couple of weeks ago. I don't think she had been on many walks, but now does so well. Greta is a very sweet and loving dog. Thank you so much.

Photos: Greta loves her chew bones!

December 29, 2005

September 24, 2005

