

November 10, 2007

It's been 6 months since I brought Max home and he is doing great. He's been through a round of obedience training and it became apparent very quickly that he had some prior training. He loves to take his morning walks/runs and today we checked out the dog park for the first time. He did great, along with his sister Navy. They played frisbee and ran like crazy with the other dogs. We'll definitely be doing that on a regular basis. Max also went swimming a few weeks ago, another activity I've discovered he loves! Max loves his new life and we couldn't be happier to have him. Thanks for taking care of these special dogs and finding them new forever homes.

Photos: 1) Max 2) Max with his loud squeaky toy 3) Max with his sister Navy

November 10, 2007

