

August 1, 2004

She adores playing ball and just hanging out in her big backyard. Chosen for her beauty and older quiet age, she fit well into her new loving family. She still had to make her presence known to the neighborhood cats and other dogs, but will live a glorious life of a loving family and plenty of walks and treats.